Abstract

This talk is going to be a survey talk that follows the thread of the ideas that lead from some simple conditioning arguments towards Fourier methods for pricing. At this point it looks like the papers to be discussed are:

However, this can change. If you are in the Levy Processes class, this will cover different material than the lecture that I gave in that class.