

A Model for a Large Investor Trading at Market Indifference Prices

Dmitry Kramkov, Carnegie Mellon University

September 10, 2007

We develop an equilibrium-based model for a large economic agent, where she trades with market makers at their utility indifference prices. The presentation is based on a joint project with Peter Bank from Humboldt University of Berlin.